To Be Sold

Jack Charles are proud to welcome to the market this stunning Victorian Farm House that has been completely renovated and enjoys the most sensational views over an area of outstanding natural beauty. The property offers an elegance and charm that is often very difficult to execute and now offers a redesigned internal layout to create the most magnificent period home. The attention to detail and high standard refinement have been beautifully blended into a period property that elegantly offers a central entrance and hallway with two adjoining reception rooms, a dual aspect living room and a formal dining room. The dining room socially leads into a large bespoke designed Harvey Jones kitchen/breakfast room with feature Aga and central island with inviting views via the feature bi-fold doors onto the garden that have been ideally placed taking in panoramic views beyond which are stunning. In addition a large utility room is found to the side that serves as an excellent overspill to the main kitchen and the ground further benefits from a cloakroom w.c, boot room and internal stairs leading down into a large cellar with two independent areas ideal for storage. To the first floor the theme of period charm and modern refinement continues with four well appointed double bedrooms and more elevated views taking in full advantage of its semi rural aspect with this floor now enjoying high standard ablutions that include a striking en-suite and an absolutely stunning 'Lusso Stone' bath/shower room. Externally the property offers approx 1/2 acre with generous parking, large double garage and gardens that wrap around the property with generous patio, lawn and mature borders and of course the most amazing views. The location is often sought and has been recently celebrated with Wadhurst being voted as the most desirable place to live in the UK by the Sunday Times and with property like this available to buy...its easy to see why! and early viewings are essential to fully appreciate
